

Why Doctors and Healthcare Professionals Select PERQUE Supplements for Themselves, Their Families, and Their Patients

Who We Are

PERQUE LLC was founded in 1987 by Dr. Russell Jaffe, who holds both a medical degree and a Ph.D. in biochemistry. Using the latest scientific and medical knowledge available, Dr. Jaffe continues to develop a new generation of nutritional supplements, which are sold through doctors and healthcare professionals, called PERQUE. Dr. Jaffe's goal is to develop the most advanced formulas possible in order to provide superior results in restoring, maintaining, and enhancing health.

Our PERQUE promise is that only the most active, specific forms of nutrients shown beneficial in clinical studies are selected for use. All ingredients are listed on our "full disclosure" labels and are specially formulated for complete utilization and absorption. PERQUE unique formulations use only pure ingredients -- nothing wasted, such as non-absorbable nutrients; nothing to interfere with the full uptake of nutrients into your cells, such as toxins from the production process, allergens from the extraction process, or preservatives.

We have not found any other formulas on the market that can match the results PERQUE delivers. We know that people using PERQUE report faster and more predictable results that favorably impact the quality of their life. This is why leading doctors and healthcare professionals select and use PERQUE.

Choosing the Right Nutritional Supplement Can Be Confusing

Lack of FDA Monitoring: The FDA does not monitor the contents or purity of nutritional supplements, resulting in a wide variety in the quality of products on the market today.

Varying Levels of Quality: The quality of ingredients can vary based upon the supplier, specific nutrient forms purchased, and period of time the raw materials are stored before use. Fillers, such as microcrystalline cellulose, lecithin powder, silica, lemon oil, pharmaceutical glaze, talc, povidone, zein, fructose, starch (all from corn), and dicalcium phosphate are, are inactive and ineffective bulking agents, which are also used to save money.

Formula Development: The combination and amount of ingredients used in each supplement is critical for the performance of the product.

Avoid confusion by speaking with your doctor or healthcare professional about the superiority of PERQUE supplements.

Why Doctors and Healthcare Professionals Trust and Use PERQUE Supplements

Hear from those who have found success when using PERQUE products as part of their patients' and their own wellness program.

"I have used PERQUE nutraceuticals myself and with many of my patients. I have been very impressed with the quality, purity, and the clinical results I see with PERQUE products. The patients' symptom response when placed on PERQUE is significantly better than any nutrient lines I have used in the past. I am impressed with how they are formulated, how they target nutrients for specific problems, and their superior bioavailability. I have no hesitation in recommending PERQUE products to my patients and family."

John Hart, MD - Ashburn, VA

"I have had direct experience with PERQUE products. In 24 hours these products accomplished what other products failed to do in six weeks. They completely relieved all of my bronchial symptoms!"

Douglas Fleckman, CCN, FACN - Houston, TX

"When we compared PERQUE products with substitutes, our patients were quick to see the difference. There's something very special about these unique formulations -- they work! We continually see outstanding results with our patients, and we would never be without them."

Anne Szpindor, MD - Chicago, IL

"I began using PERQUE products for my son, who suffered with two ear infections back to back and had been on five antibiotics in his first nine months. Since I started using PERQUE, he has not been sick. I highly recommend using PERQUE as a first line of defense when you recognize an illness approaching. I do not know of another product that would match the quality and effectiveness of PERQUE."
